Small Red Potatoes

Wash and scrub potatoes thoroughly. Only cut super big potatoes so they are all about the same size.

Put potatoes into saucepan with enough water to cover all the potatoes. Heat potatoes until they are boiling. Then reduce heat to simmer and cover potatoes 15 to 20 minutes or until tender

Baked Potatoes - Russet potatoes

Oven: Preheat oven to 350* F. Thoroughly scrub and wash the potatoes. Poke potatoes with a fork. Coat the potatoes in vegetable oil and sprinkle a little salt over them. Wrap potatoes in aluminum foil. Put wrapped potatoes in oven for 1 hour and 15 minutes.

Microwave: Thoroughly scrub and wash the potatoes. Poke potatoes with a fork. Put potato on microwave safe plate and cook for 5 minutes. Potentially have to cook longer, cut up potato into pieces for it to cook faster.

Fred's Chocolate Chip Cookie Recipe

- 1 Cup white sugar
- 1 Cup brown sugar
- 1 Cup unsalted butter (2 sticks of butter - softened)
- 2 large eggs
- 1 tsp Baking soda
- 2 tsp Vanilla extract
- 2 tsp Hot water
- ½ tsp Salt
- 3 Cups all-purpose flour
- 2 Cup semi-sweet chocolate chips
- 2 Cup peanut butter chips
- 1 cup chopped walnuts

Add both the white sugar and brown sugar to your mixer bowl. Make sure you use a large enough bowl

Cream together the butter and sugar mixture with your mixer at low speed until fairly smooth. Add eggs into mixture 1 at a time, mixing my 10-15 seconds each. Stir in Vanilla while mixing. Dissolve baking soda with hot water. Stir in baking soda mixture with a spoon. While mixing, sprinkle in salt

Stir in flour, half a cup at a time with mixer on medium speed

Stir in chocolate chips, walnuts, and peanut butter chips half a cup at a time

(Optional) If you like flatter cookies, preheat the oven temperature immediately to 350°F. If you like rounder cookies, wait to start preheating oven until you've chilled the dough for half an hour (Cover the bowl with plastic wrap and chill in the fridge for 45 minutes)

Use a tablespoon to scoop rounded dough balls onto ungreased pan or a parchment lined pan. Bake cookies for 13 minutes at 350

Frittatas

12 eggs

3 tablespoons full-fat dairy (heavy cream, half-and-half, whole milk, sour cream, crème fraîche or yogurt)

½ teaspoon salt

1 cup (4 ounces) grated or crumbled cheddar cheese

3 to 5 cups chopped vegetables (mushrooms, peppers, spinach, onion, tomato,

1 tablespoon olive oil

Garnish: Chopped or torn fresh, leafy herbs (basil, parsley, cilantro, or dill)

Preheat the oven to 425 degrees Fahrenheit for the traditional stovetop method, or 350 degrees for the baked methods.

Crack the eggs into a medium mixing bowl. Add your dairy of choice and the salt. Whisk just until the egg yolks and whites are blended. Whisk in all or half of the cheese (you can reserve the other half for topping the frittata before baking, if desired). Set the mixture aside.

In a 12-inch cast iron skillet (or any other large skillet that's oven safe), warm the olive oil over medium heat until shimmering. Add the vegetables, starting with chopped onions or other dense vegetables. Cook for a few minutes, stirring occasionally, then add any softer vegetables such as zucchini. Cook until those vegetables are tender, then add any garlic or greens, and cook until fragrant or wilted. Season with salt, to taste.

Traditional stovetop option: Whisk the eggs once more and pour the mixture over the vegetables. Stir with a spatula briefly to combine and distribute the mixture evenly across the pan. If you reserved any cheese, sprinkle it on top of the frittata now.

Once the outside edge of the frittata turns lighter in color (about 30 seconds to 1 minute), carefully transfer the frittata to the oven. Bake for 7 to 14 minutes (keep an eye on it), until the eggs are puffed and appear cooked, and the center of the frittata jiggles just a bit when you give it a gentle shimmy. Remove the frittata from the oven and place it on a cooling rack to cool. Garnish with herbs, slice with a sharp knife, and serve.

Baked casserole option: Let the cooked vegetables cool for a few minutes. In the meantime, grease a 9 by 13-inch pan with butter, which works better than cooking spray. Stir the lightly cooled veggies into the egg mixture, then pour it all into the pan. If you reserved any cheese, sprinkle it on top of the frittata now.

Bake for 20 to 25 minutes (keep an eye on it), until the eggs are puffed and appear cooked, and the center of the frittata jiggles just a bit when you give it a gentle shimmy. Remove the frittata from the oven and place it on a cooling rack to cool. Garnish with herbs, slice with a sharp knife, and serve.

Boiled and Deviled Eggs

For 6 eggs

3 tablespoons of mayonnaise

½ teaspoon ground mustard or small regular mustard

⅛ teaspoon salt

⅛ teaspoon pepper

First boil eggs by putting eggs in a saucepan. Completely cover eggs with cold water. Heat on high until boiling. Once rolling boil, remove pan from heat and cover. Let stand for 15 minutes. After, add cold water to cool eggs off. Once eggs are cool, peel.

For deviled eggs once they are peeled, cut lengthwise in half. Take out yolks and put them into a small bowl. Mash yolk with a fork. Stir mayonnaise, mustard, salt, and pepper into yolks. Fill whites with the egg yolk mixture.
